

Mapping Prevention Centre synthesis and communication outputs

Products	Evidence reviews Synthesis of published and grey literature Evidence summaries Reports, Articles	Policy briefs (static) and/or simulation models _(dynamic) Analysis of policy options: weighed against evidence, local context & prior experience	Action statements Advocacy for policy actions Explicit rationales for the above	Factsheets and soundbites Concise statements on established facts around chronic disease prevention. For use on website, in the newsletter and social media
Purpose and audience	Compile evidence to inform Prevention Centre program of work – for investigators, partners	Support evidence-informed policy dialogues – for policy makers, advisors	Drive action – for policy makers, advisors, practitioners, researchers other key stakeholders	Promote prevention agenda in policy settings – for policy makers, advisors
Production process	Literature review Evidence critical appraisal Evidence synthesis Evidence interpretation	Knowledge synthesis and exchange processes (policy-practice-research deliberations) Group simulation modelling	Consensus building process: evidence-informed policy dialogues on policy directions / action	Compile and communicate established facts and advocate prevention action
Information sources	Prevention Centre projects (systematic reviews, rapid reviews, scoping reviews) Or Commissioned rapid reviews of published and grey literature (service rather than core program)	Evidence reviews Local data and experience Expert opinion (academic, policy, practice)	Simulation model outputs and/or policy briefs Expert opinion (academic, policy, practice) Other key stakeholders	Prevention Centre and other experts, citing published reviews and evidence
Prevention Centre value-add	Directed by Prevention Centre content expert Expert opinion on strengths, weakness and gaps in the evidence Expert commentary on policy and practice implications / recommendations	Co-production between Chief Investigators, partners and funders Expert opinions on implications	Co-production between Chief Investigators, partners and funders plus Engagement with broader range of stakeholders	Content advised and endorsed by Prevention Centre experts
Opportunity for innovation or research	Effective ways to summarise and present evidence about prevention.	Systems-based methods for synthesising diverse types of evidence & knowledge Innovation in knowledge exchange Effective policy briefs	New approaches to building consensus Innovation in Knowledge Exchange	Effective ways to communicate facts about prevention.